MONTENEGRO AND AUSTRIA.

SURRENDER REPORT PREMATURE.

January 19, 4.25 p.m.

A French official wireless message says the report of the surrender of the Montenegrins was premature. It is now announced that the Austro-Montenegrin negotiations are broken off, the conditions imposed being quite unacceptable to Montenegro.

ITALY'S STARTLING ATTITUDE.

January 19, 1.58 p.m.

The Italian Press, which has recently been strongly repudiating any suggestion that Italy has failed to support Montenegro, now comments most bitterly on Montenegro's surrender. It alleges that King Nicholas secretly agreed with Austria in October last for the eventual conclusion of a separate peace Treaty, and that her subsequent resistance was merely a sham. It maintains that the capitulation is merely an episode, and says the Austrians will meet very different resistance in Senj and Albania.

BRITISH OPINION.

The British Press takes a sober view of the capitulation. It points out that the enemy jubilation is really a confession of weakness, because it is a triumphing over the submission of the remnants of a pigmy Army of the smallest Kingdom in the world. This is the first of their adversaries to submit after eighteen months of war, whereas Germany is weakening in speeding out, while the Allies are supreme on the sea and are preparing a shattering blow at her vitals.

THE COMPULSION BILL.

TWO AMENDMENTS ACCEPTED.

January 19, 7.00 a.m.

In the House of Commons, the Labourites accepted a Government amendment to the Compulsion Bill, designed to prevent industrial conscription.

The Government accepted an amendment providing that the Admiralty shall have the first call on the men secured under the measure.

Dr. Macnamara pointed out that the Admiralty had power to raise 300,000 men and they needed 50,000 more by March 31. They had already got 20,000 of that number. It was not anticipated that there would be any difficulty in getting the men required, but the amendment was in consonance with the spirit of the Bill, and would therefore be accepted.

The debate was notable for the maiden speech of Sir George Reid, who said the Australians thought that the only possible question now was not what our rights were hundreds of years ago, but what they were likely to be if we were licked. Incidentally, Sir George Reid repudiated the observations of Sir Ivor Herbert, who had accused Earl Kitchener of being wrong throughout in the matter of recruiting. Sir George said the opinion of Australians was that Earl Kitchener, in raising the Citizen Armies, had performed one of the grandest duties that any British soldier had ever performed.

OTHER AMENDMENTS.

January 19, 12.30 p.m.

In the House of Commons, Sir John Simon moved an amendment seeking to invert the procedure under the Military Bill—namely, requiring those affected to go before a tribunal and, if they are not accepted, they should be placed on a Special Registry. If the total number of those accepted should be substantial, they would be automatically enlisted by an Order-in-Council. The amendment was defeated by 283 votes to 53.

Major General Sir Ivor Herbert moved an amendment including in the Bill, not only those who were 18 years of age on August 15, 1915, but those who had subsequently become 18.

Mr. Walter Long said Earl Kitchener did not desire this amendment, believing that the Bill as it stands will give the men required for victory.

The amendment was negatived.

In the course of debate, Sir F. E. Smith mentioned that of the three million who had joined the colours there was not a single case where the death sentence had been carried out.

SIR JOHN SIMON.

NOT ACCEPTABLE TO LESTON.

January 19, 12.30 p.m.

The Leston Liberal Club's ballot showed 7 to 1 in favour of demanding that Sir John Simon shall resign on account of his attitude on conscription.

Double Income Tax.

Last week Sir George Reid expressed a fervent hope that the Imperial Government would convene a conference of Dominion representatives, so as to discuss industrial, economic, and defensive problems. This course was strongly advocated a year ago, but it was held by the higher authorities in London that it was not opportune—while the Empire was in the throes of a huge war—for an Imperial conference to be held. Now, however, there is more sympathy felt in official quarters with the idea that in spite of the protracted war, the loyalty and support of distant Dominions demand due recognition and questions have since arisen which might be discussed with profit to the Empire as a whole.

Daily Press.

Government of Hongkong.

It must always be something of a shock to a newcomer, impressed with the many evidences of moral and material achievement which Hongkong presents, to learn that the community to whose enterprise and commercial ability the Colony owes its foundation and prosperity is still excluded from any effective participation in local government. Yet this is the simple fact. On both the Executive and Legislative Councils there is, it is true, an unofficial element, but as this is in a permanent minority, it can only express its views on the measures that come before it and hope for the best. Moreover, of this unofficial element not more than one-third, even in the Legislative Council, can be regarded, by any stretch of the imagination, as representative of the general community; two members being nominated respectively by the Justices of the Peace and the Chamber of Commerce, while the remaining four are appointed by the Governor. In these days when every little village in England has its elected Parish Council and the humblest agricultural labourer possesses the Parliamentary franchise, such a system as that which obtains in this Colony is an anachronism and stands self-condemned. What, it may fairly be asked, are the peculiar conditions obtaining in Hongkong which require that as soon as he sets foot in the Colony an Englishman shall be deprived of those elementary rights of citizenship which he is accustomed to exercise at home?

The War.

Mr. Asquith's New Year Message to the Russian nation is noteworthy for the confidence it expresses in "the consummation of the hopes of the Allies for the final overthrow of the common enemy" in the course of the present year. The King in his recent message to the King of Serbia also expressed himself as fully convinced that the Allies, together with the heroic Serbian Army, are in a position to win back complete independence for the Serbian people. Mr. Lloyd George, in his message to Russia, supplied the basis of this confidence when he said: "The time is, soon coming, when on both fronts we shall face the enemy under conditions of complete equality as regards munitions and with the numerical advantage on our side." These assurances it is well to remember as we read of the unconditional surrender of Montenegro to Austria, for the surrender of the small Kingdom of Montenegro will have no more influence on the final result of the war than the surrender of Togoland by the Germans.

For a good week past, in the Canton, Taipei, and other parts of the East, the people have been

Washington, January 11.—Prominent lawyers all over the country and the different bar associations are urging President Wilson to appoint Mr. William Howard Taft to the supreme court bench, to fill the vacancy created by the recent death of Justice Lamar.

State Hotels in Queensland. The Queensland Government has definitely decided to enter upon the hotel business. It is proposed to take over the hotel now in course of erection at Mount Outhbert, and to acquire the hotel at Kalkadoon, near Mount Outhbert, while an hotel at Bahinda has been practically taken over.

American Securities in England. "There is the best of reason," a very well known English financial critic writes, "for believing that in the aggregate the English holdings of American securities must run into some hundreds of millions of pounds, even when allowance is made for the sales which have been effected during recent months."

German Sent to Gaol. For entering a prohibited area without permission, Robert Julius Hamer, 64, a German, was at Liverpool sentenced to six months in the second division. He had represented himself to the police as an American citizen and the owner of estates in America worth $18,000,000, and was at the docks inquiring what vessels were sailing for America.

The Origin of Archangel. There have been numerous references of late to the Russian port Archangel, which is now declared to be open for some weeks beyond the usual period, owing to the beneficent activities of improved ice-breakers. But the links of Archangel with this country are little recognized. Yet the account of a Norse trading expedition there in the ninth century was described, or translated, by no less a personage than Alfred the Great, and the modern town dates from the visit of an English voyager, William Chanceller, in the middle of the sixteenth century. Soon after that visit an English factory was established, a fort was built, and around this the town grew up.—Daily Chronicle.

Riotous Soldiers at Honolulu. Honolulu, January 14.—Soldiers of the Ninth Cavalry regiment, en route for Manila on the transport Sherman, created a disturbance here last night and had to be suppressed by the Second Infantry, which was called out to quell the riot. It is not known just how the disorder started, but the rioting was fierce and general, and when order had again been restored the Tenderloin district of Honolulu was a wreck and many additional patients had been taken to the hospital. The soldiers on shore leave also looted some of the stores and houses. The arrival of the Second Infantry soon quelled the disturbances.—Manila Bulletin.

Tod Sloan in America. New York, Dec.—James Tod Sloan, the former American jockey, who has been living abroad for seven years, returned to-day on the White Star liner Adriatic having been deported by the British Government as an undesirable, under the defence of the realm act. He said the British officials had mistaken him for a gambler. Sloan said he was playing for a moving picture concern, when he ran across Jeffrey Taylor, an army officer, and the ex-jockey took him up to his flat in Bedford Court Mansions. "Taylor lost $150," Sloan continued "and that started the trouble, as the police called to see me about it, and I was deported to America."

The working of the new destructor was complete and left nothing to be desired.

Labourites v. Catholics in Australia.

Melbourne, December 24.—According to statements made to members of the Catholic Federation, the central executive of the Victorian Political Labour Council has decided that delegates to the annual conference of that body, not only from branches of the council but also from affiliated trade unions, will not be admitted to the conference if they are members of the Catholic Federation. This is said to be really an extension of the prohibition against members of the federation belonging to the P.L.C.

Drugs 25 an Ounce.

Some of the most important drugs have become so scarce that doctors are greatly handicapped, especially as it is difficult to find substitutes for some of them. This scarcity has resulted in exceptionally high prices. Atropine is 3d. and 4d. a grain (25 to 25 an ounce), while eserine (poisonous alkaloid) is worth more. Both these drugs are indispensable in ophthalmic surgery. The scarcity of atropine is due to the dearth of belladonna, the raw material from which it is extracted, which is obtained from Central Europe. Phenacetin, a popular headache and neuralgia remedy, is now twenty-two times the price charged before the war. Aspirin, another very popular drug, is now twenty times dearer than it was in 1914. Salicylic acid and salicylate of soda, remedies for rheumatism, are worth eighteen times their pre-war price.

Working Hours of Women in Massachusetts.

Boston, November 30.—The State Supreme Court to-day ruled that the law limiting the employment of women to fifty-four hours a week applied to those engaged in mental pursuits as well as to those ordinarily described as labourers. The Court held that the working hours of women had been limited on the ground that they were under an industrial disability, and that the public welfare was injured by affecting deleteriously their natural vigour, adding: "This reason applies quite as strongly where the labour is not purely physical, but is also mental. The words 'labourer' and 'labouring' have no hard and fast meaning."

Britain's Financial Resources.

French issues of capital must be approved by His Majesty's Treasury. All conditions must be subordinated to the husbanding of the financial resources of the country for the successful prosecution of the war. No issues will be allowed for undertakings outside the Empire, while overseas issues will only be allowed where urgency and special circumstances are shown. The above restrictions do not apply to Treasury Bills and other short instruments of Colonial governments or municipalities.

Turkey Still Losing Badly.

The pursuit of the Turks who were beaten at Karagaran continues. After a two days' battle at Jenkier, the Turks again fled in disorder after suffering heavy losses. Three hundred Turks were killed and wounded in a single charge made by the Siberian Cossacks.

More Russian Successes.

We made a night counter-attack and re-occupied the ket trench at Gumine. All the Germans in the trench were killed. Two German counter-attacks were made, but were fruitless. The enemy also attempted two night attacks at Gulki, but was discovered by our searchlights and routed. Fresh attempts by the Austrian heavy guns to bombard Tarnow have been balked by our artillery.

German Aviators Captured.

German aeroplanes flew over our positions in the Champagne region and were received with gun-fire. Two of the German aeroplanes descended in our lines, near Bar-le-Duc. The machines are intact and the four aviators were captured. There have been intermittent cannonades and fusillades in Argonne and snow and tempest have been raging between Argonne and the Vosges.

Have you noticed that your eyes are much more tired and that you have headaches since the war started?

Everyone is reading two or three times as many papers as usual. Their additional reading causes eyestrain in eyes which had been previously capable of doing all the work they were asked to do. If your eyes were perfect, or if you had correctly fitted glasses, you could read all day without tiring your eyes.

We make no charge for testing your eyes, therefore if your eyes tire call in and ask if you need glasses.

HONGKONG, THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 1916.

HONGKONG AND REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT.

The proposals contained in Mr. Pollock's letter and petition which we published yesterday deserve the very earnest attention of all our readers. Some few weeks ago, Mr. Pollock made good use of his position as an Unofficial Member of the Council to ask the Government of Hongkong to approach the Secretary of State for the Colonies with a view to the establishing of a more representative form of Government than has hitherto obtained here. The reply, as must have been foreseen, was a chilling one; such an one, in fact, as would have acted as a final rebuff to a less courageous man than the Member who had submitted the request. Mr. Pollock, however, is not easily daunted, in proof of which fact he has now asked the public of Hongkong to support him in an appeal to a higher authority: the Imperial Government.

He proposes that the Secretary of State should be asked to take measures for the appointing of four (instead of two) Unofficial Members to the Executive Council, that the number of Unofficial Members to the Legislative Council shall be increased from six to ten, and that the British Unofficial Members of the latter should be elected—half by the Chamber of Commerce and the other half by the non-official justices of the peace. Mr. Pollock, as though in anticipation of local comment on this last point, hints in his letter at the possibility of expanding it; indeed, of his sending a covering letter to the Secretary of State, suggesting that, instead of confining the right of voting to the justices of the peace, it might be well to extend it to all who can claim a voice in the election of members of the Sanitary Board. It would be ungenerous to cavil, at a time when the proposer is so manifestly seeking to act for the best; otherwise one might find it necessary to remark that no good purpose is likely to be served by drawing attention "in a covering letter" to the rights of the man who does not chance to be a justice of the peace, as a sort of afterthought. But let that pass. It may be that Mr. Pollock will yet see his way to making such alterations in the text of the petition as will dispense with the need for anything supplementary.

Mr. Pollock is setting out on a bold course, and he will need all the whole-hearted backing that the men of Hongkong can give. He is flying in the face of accepted tradition, by making direct application to the Imperial Government; and he is courting a further snub. It is not right that the full force of that snub should be borne by him; if it is to come we had better all have a share of it—and this we shall accomplish by signing the proposed petition. When it is rejected we can sign another, and yet another, until the request is (as it finally must be) granted. The situation is far too serious to allow of men's being content to sit down and do nothing more active than grumbling. Unless proper protest is made, the present unsatisfactory state of matters will go on indefinitely—the Hongkong man continuing to have less voice in his own ruling than a labourer in a four-shilling-a-week cottage at home. Mr. Pollock does not mince terms in dealing with the present voting in the Legislative Council. Official Members, he very frankly observes, "are not free to vote according to their convictions." That is plain English, and, with all that it implies, the statement sums up the position. After all, the signatories will be asking nothing more than has been their right all along. Even though the petition may seem to suggest that some of us would fain see the Government outwitted by Unofficial Members at every turn, there is no man of sense in the Colony who would support any such Member as sought to thrust municipal interests unduly ahead of Imperial rights. It is not proposed, for instance, that a purely military or purely legal matter shall be roughly pushed aside by men with only a layman's knowledge of the subject, and dropped because the Government happens to be outnumbered. All that is asked is that the man in the street shall have a means—such as at present he has not—of enquiring, with satisfaction to himself, into the outlay of public money, and a voice in all local questions that are of an exclusively civic character.

"Honor to Whom"

The Post Office authorities are to be complimented on having secured the conviction and punishment of a Chinese postman who was found to be stealing articles in course of transit through his hands and also with removing a ten-cent stamp from a letter. A thieving postman deserves all the punishment the law permits when his guilt is brought home, and the sentence of six months' hard labour which was imposed in this instance should serve as a warning to native letter-carriers here. There are, of course, black sheep in every flock, but, considering all the circumstances, the Colony appears to be fairly free from this sort of occurrence. When we remember the huge mails which the Hongkong Post Office handles—and we are afraid that point is often overlooked by the public—it will be admitted that detection of crimes of this character is not an easy matter. In the case under notice, however, the postal authorities evidently had their eyes wide open. They observed certain correspondence, covers lying about, kept watch and eventually laid the thief by the heels. They are to be commended for their alertness in protecting the interests of the public in this way.

A Discovery.

China has made the startling discovery that there is really something to be said for the science of geology. In a Memorial, the Minister of Agriculture and Commerce is at pains to point out that "the study and examination of the constituents of the soil and the geological structure of the land is of the present moment a science of great importance," and he comes forward with a further illuminating piece of information to the effect that "during late years" Western nations have applied their scientific knowledge to practical uses in various industries. After leading off in this way, the Minister advocates the creation of a special Bureau for the development of the sciences, remarking that China's extensive mineral resources "lie hidden in the earth on account of lack of scientific and technical knowledge on the part of the people." The movement, if it is seriously intended, deserves every encouragement, of course. But we have heard and read about this one-sided scheme of this order before, which have died in birth. The biological ignorance of the people is not the root cause of the failure to develop the country's mineral resources. The real reason can be expressed in one word—"Squasze."

Afforestation.

There is one matter, however, in regard to which China appears to be inclined to make a serious attempt at improvement—namely, afforestation. Two distinguished foreign advisers have been appointed to take this problem in hand, and, if they are only given a free hand they should be able to lay the foundations of a better state of affairs than now exists. We read an interesting statement on this subject a day or so ago, a Peking paper remarking that "with a view to stimulating the people's enthusiasm for forestry, the Emperor-Elect will, on the day of his enthronement, personally plant a few trees." The ceremony will no doubt be a picturesque one, but we may perhaps be pardoned for doubting whether it will have any overwhelming effect in influencing the people to restrain themselves in their notorious habit of denuding the countryside of wood. A carefully-planned scheme of re-afforestation, and strictly-enforced laws against tree-stripping, will alone provide the real remedy.

The Proposed Women's Medical College in Madras.

The Government is taking steps to discover the extent of the need for the proposed medical college for women in Madras, says the Advocate of India. A circular has been sent to all the district medical and sanitary officers in the Presidency, inviting their opinion on the question of founding such a college and the number of candidates which might be expected from each district.

NOTES ON THE CRISIS.

MONTENEGRO.

The Allies' Resoluteness.

The leading characteristic of the overnight wires is surely the black outlook for the enemy, and the Allies' determination to make that outlook all the blacker. From almost every front come records of more or less important scores for the Entente. From Home we learn that the country is daily growing more solid in its readiness to support compulsory service, (or indeed any other measure that will contribute towards a quick victory) and from Germany there is abundant evidence that discontent—the sort of discontent that promises to hasten our victory—is on a decided increase. With all this in view, we are surely more than ever justified in regarding Mr. Asquith's "1916" as being very far from a mere empty boast. When we have British Socialists marking off as "a humber and a coward" the trade unionist who refuses to enlist, when we have even the stalwart Mr. Thomas hinting at giving his benediction to a Bill of which he is regarded as being the leading opponent, when we have the Dominions desiring positively feverish in their desire to send more men to the front, how can we fail to feel that new life has, somehow or other, been pumped into the Empire?

"Keeping the Truth from the People."

Similarly, how can Germany fail to realise that her course is nearly run, in face of defeats near Biga, in Persia and the Caucasus, on the French and Belgian fronts, and round about Bukovina? And, side by side with these defeats, she has to set the British decision to render the blockade really tight and effective, and the clamour of her Socialists who tell her, without dreaming of offering anything that will sweeten the pill, that she is "keeping the truth from the people." The Socialists have a big mission before them if they are prepared to enlighten their fellow-countrymen. "Keeping the truth from the people" means such a lot in this case. We might divide the German population into two groups: those who believe their country to be absolutely invincible in arms, and those who conscientiously regard her as the embodiment of honour and culture. What an awakening is in store for these two groups when they learn—the one, that Germany has long ceased to exist as a sea power and is being slowly beaten at every point on land—and, the other, that their country has justly become a byword for all that is false, and mean and treacherous and uncivilised and vile! Is it not time, even for their own sakes, the German people should know all this?

The Montenegrin "Surrender."

Yesterday we took leave to suggest that one is in no wise bound to believe all that a Hungarian politician says. From later wires it would seem that Count Tizza was in rather too much of a hurry to announce Montenegro's surrender. A French official wireless message, while it does not actually contradict the statements attributed yesterday to the King of Montenegro and his consul in Paris, says that the news of the surrender was "premature" and adds that peace negotiations with Austria are broken off. So much for rumour. Austria, left to herself, might have been prepared to impose some conditions on a conquered people, but Austria dominated by Germany is quite another affair. At present we must hope that the Allies have been able to hold out to Montenegro such definite promises of support and final reward as have decided her to abandon all further talk of surrender.

Over £7,000 have been raised by auction sales in Huntingdonshire for the Star and Garter and Allied Agricultural Relief Funds. A cockerel, worth eightpence, realised £165.

FOOTBALL.

88th Company R.O.A. v. University XI.

Played on the Military ground at 3.30 yesterday afternoon, this match proved very interesting. The University, playing at their best, blocked many good efforts from the gunners' forward line which looked particularly dangerous. The University then made a dash, and, taking the leather into the gunners' territory, gave the goalie a very exciting time, but he managed to clear. Play was again brought into the University's territory and several good shots were cleared by the goalie while others went high and wide. The game was thus evenly contested throughout the first half, and when the whistle for half-time sounded, there were no score registered.

In the second half, the gunners played a faster game and kept pressing the University's goal, which was well kept by the custodian, aided by the backs. The gunners, however, did not seem to be discouraged, and continued their offensive until they were at last awarded a point through a fine shot. From the centre, the University took the leather into the gunners' territory where many shots were delivered, the goalie saving every time. It was in the course of this struggle, that one of the gunners fouled the ball within the penalty area and a penalty kick was awarded to the University. As there were only a few minutes more to go, a draw seemed to be inevitable. Dixon, taking the penalty kick for the University, shot well, but the gunners' goalie managed to clear with much difficulty, and thus saved the situation. When the final whistle sounded, the gunners were the winners by one goal to love.

Belchers v. Diocesan.
This game, which was played on the Naval ground, proved to be one-sided. Belchers being undoubtedly the superior team. The school team, however, played as gamely as usual and managed to score one goal against their opponents' six which came about in pretty quick succession. The soldiers won on account of their weight, which was very much in evidence throughout the whole game. Although the Diocesan have most unfortunately lost every match this season, still, they are among the most gameplayers to be found in the Second Division.

THE KOMOR CASE.

A Settlement out of Court.

Mr. W. E. L. Shenton, who was prosecuting in the case of furious driving of a motor bicycle at Happy Valley, against Henry S. Komor, of 44 Robinson Road, as a result of which Mrs. Isaac Turner was knocked down and severely injured, made an application to Mr. Hazeland this morning for the charge to be withdrawn. He said the complainant had had certain compensation offered her, and, subject to his Worship's approval, she would like to withdraw the case. He (Mr. Shenton) had seen the police and they had no objection.

His Worship:—In the circumstances, I will grant the application. It would have been a very different matter if the woman had been killed.

Mr. Shenton:—This is a case in which civil damages can meet it.

We understand that adequate compensation has been paid.

34. Anna Mary Bawz, Diocesan Girls' School, with Distinction in English, History, Biblical Knowledge, Domestic Science & Needlework.
35. A. Mox Forsyth, Kowloon British School.
36. Clara O. Frost, Kowloon British School, with Distinction in Needlework.
37. Mabel Edna Mower, Victoria British School.

DIOCESAN GIRLS' SCHOOL.

Concert and Prize Distribution.

The record of work done by the Diocesan Girls' School at Kowloon during the past twelve months is one of which any school of this nature might well be proud, and the Acting Superintendent (Miss Ferguson) and her staff are to be congratulated on the very excellent report which was presented at the annual concert and prize-giving which took place in St. Andrew's Hall, Kowloon, yesterday afternoon. This function proved most successful, a large company of friends and parents assembling. Among those present were Lady May and the Misses May, the bishop of Victoria, Mrs. Lander, and Miss Lander, Surgeon General and Mrs. Hockley, the Rev. N. C. and Mrs. Pope, Mrs. T. H. King, Mr. E. Balpa (Inspector of Schools) and Mrs. Balpa, Mrs. Forsyth, the Rev. Copley Mayle, Rev. W. F. Featherstone, Mrs. Scott Haddon, M. A. Montague Harrison, Mrs. J. H. Kemp, Mrs. Aitken, etc.

Prior to the presentation of prizes a most enjoyable programme was given by the scholars, the admirable manner in which they performed the various items bespeaking careful training on the part of Miss Ferguson and her staff.

In asking Miss Ferguson to read the annual report, the Bishop, who presided, said he thought the girls had acquitted themselves splendidly and had done credit to Miss Ferguson and her assistants and all those who were assisting her in the work of the school.

The Report.
Miss Ferguson then read the annual report, which was as follows:—

and organized by the Rev. N. C. Pope, who was most kind in instructing the girls in swimming and diving. You will hear from the Treasurer's report that the debt on the Building Fund of the School has been materially decreased, but the portion of the building already erected by no means suffices for even the present needs. It is with the object of further reducing this debt that we are holding the present concert. I should like to thank the donors of the prizes, which are much valued by the girls. We are pressing forward, and hope for still greater things in the future, as it is a good work we are trying to do, and we are sure that God's blessing rests upon it. Since writing this report we have received word that of the three candidates presented for the Hongkong Local examination this last December, two have passed; one girl gaining distinction in Religious Knowledge, English History, Domestic Science, and Needlework, and the other having distinction in Drawing and Needlework. (Applause.) May I take this opportunity of thanking you all for your presence here this afternoon and for the kind interest you have taken in the School? (Applause.)

The Finances.

In giving the financial statement, Surgeon General Hockley (Treasurer of the school) said:— I have been asked to make a few remarks with regard to the financial state of the Diocesan Girls' School, and as, if I gave you a multitude of figures you would probably rather very little, I will confine myself to the merest outline of the present financial condition especially as compared with that which existed on the 31st December, 1914. The income derived from fees during the past year averaged monthly almost $1,300, as against $1,161 in 1914. The Government Grant was far greater than in the previous year, as was the amount collected by Mr. Aitken for both the Boys' and Girls' Schools. We are also grateful for offerings at St. John's Cathedral and St. Andrew's League and from many private individuals, of whom I will only mention one—Mr. Pettigrew—who, having prepaid fees for his daughter, on her sudden removal from the school owing to his having settled at Shanghai, very generously allowed the balance of $93 to be transferred to the Building Fund Account. (Applause.) During the year we have had very heavy expenses. One item alone (for passages for teachers) amounted to $1,654. But, owing to the careful management of Miss Skipton and Miss Ferguson, when every bill was settled we had a total balance of $474 on 31st December last, as compared with $130 in 1914, so that the General Account may be considered satisfactory. With regard to the Building Fund, which is practically paid off—as we can afford it from the general account—the debt on the 1st January, 1915, amounted to $13,208. My most sanguine expectation was that this might be reduced to a few dollars, less than ten thousand during the year, but I am most happy to be able to inform you that my expectations have been more than realised and the debt now amounts to $8,688.22, which I consider most eminently satisfactory. The more so as, owing to the well deserved success and increasing popularity of the school, the pupils' sleeping accommodation is at present taxed to its utmost, and in a very short time it will be necessary to build extra dormitories. I may add that if this debt could be paid off before incurring the fresh expense of the new dormitories. (Applause.)

He added that it would be very satisfactory if they could get the buildings free of debt before any new work was commenced. The Bishop said they would all heartily congratulate the Superintendent on the very excellent report she had read. As they knew they tried to keep a good strong European staff and they were exceedingly fortunate in having a staff of ladies who had all the necessary educational qualifications and who had their work thoroughly at heart, and who got on so well with the scholars. The school had been exceedingly fortunate. As to the finances he would very much like to see the school get out of debt before they began building again. Hongkong was remarkable for its generosity, and whenever a good fund was started it got a great deal of support, and he thought that if it were known that the school was in debt the public would meet it in a very short time. Lady May was always kind in responding to invitations to be present at gatherings of that kind and they were all very pleased to see her with them.

DISHONEST CLERK.

At the Police Court, Mr. Hazland was engaged this morning in hearing a case in which a Chinese clerk named Tam U was charged with embezzling, between September 27 and October 22, 1915, sums amounting to $381.40, the property of Chui Hoi-kwok, master of a rice shop at 115, Des Voeux Road.

In his statement, defendant said:—I did collect it, I did spend it.

Detective Sergeant Willis said that when the man was arrested yesterday he only had 30 cents left.

Sentence was passed of three months' hard labour.

In proposing a vote of thanks to Lady May, the Bishop referred to the kindness of the Rev. N. C. Pope in allowing them to use that hall for the presentation.

Inauguration of Trans-Pacific Service.

The Japan Agents for the Java-China-Japan Lijn have notified the interested parties of the opening of a steamship service by the above Lijn between Batavia and San Francisco, with a couple of semi-passenger steamers each of 12,000 tons class. The first vessel already left Batavia on December 15th, 1915. The Nederlandsche S.S. Co. and the Rotterdamse Lloyd are to work a trans-Pacific service jointly with the first-mentioned. The above scheme was conceived two years ago and has come into maturity largely through the instrumentality of Mr. Bishop of the Java-China-Japan Lijn.

Sydney's New Waterside Agreements.

In consequence of recent awards and agreements between waterside workers and local shipping companies, alterations are being made in the times for receiving cargo at the different wharves. The New South Wales Coastal Steamship Owners' Association announces that on and after January 1, 1916, no cargo will be received for shipment other than as under—Mondays to Fridays, for vessels sailing prior to 5 p.m., two hours before advertised time of sailing; for vessels sailing after 5 p.m., not later than 3 p.m. On Saturdays cargo will be received not later than 10 a.m.

China Mail Line Increases Capital.

The China Mail Steamship Co., which was recently organized and has already purchased the steamer China, has decided to increase its capital stock from $2,100,000 to $5,000,000 owing to the stock subscriptions coming in, and also to the end that the company may more readily finance the deals necessary to acquiring additional steamers. Look Lin Bi, president of the Canton Bank of San Francisco, and president and general manager of the new company, has just announced the appointments of an assistant to the president and general manager and a general passenger agent. Men who held important positions with the Pacific Mail were chosen. Head offices are to be established in San Francisco.

C. P. K. Mills.

A resumption of the 18-day mail service between the United States and Manila by means of the Canada Pacific greyhounds, Empress of Asia and Empress of Russia, is a probability of the near future, says the Manila Bulletin. Although no definite information has been received to that effect, Messrs. Smith, Bell and Company, local agents of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company, have been advised by the Hongkong office of the company that they have been led to believe the Empress of Russia and Empress of Asia will make Manila a port of call on the voyage out from Vancouver, just as they did previous to the war. It will be remembered that about two months before the outbreak of the war, the Empress of Russia and Empress of Asia were put on the Manila run outward. As a result, Manila received one 18-day and one 17-day mail from the United States and there was much rejoicing. Just as Manila folks were beginning to congratulate themselves on enjoying something like a real mail service from the homeland, the war broke out, the Empress of Russia and Empress of Asia were requisitioned by the British government for war purposes, and the mail service reverted to its former unsatisfactory status. It became even worse than before, for a great many other steamers that had hitherto plied between the United States and the islands were taken off the run. As the Empress of Russia and Empress of Asia make the round trip between Vancouver and the Orient in two months, one of these steamers will call at Manila monthly, should the new schedule be adopted. Messrs. Smith, Bell and Company have written to the company regarding the call here on the voyage from Vancouver, but no information yet regarding the matter has as yet been received from the home office. It is expected, however, that the question will be definitely decided shortly.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[The opinions expressed by the correspondents are not necessarily those of the "Hongkong Telegraph."]

HONGKONG'S GOVERNMENT.

(To the Editor of the "Hongkong Telegraph.")

Sir,—Every British resident in the Colony must sympathize with Mr. Pollock's attempt to obtain a more representative Government. Such sympathy does not involve any reflection upon the present form of Government, which may be described as a benevolent bureaucracy, well suited to a Colony in its infancy, but not adapted to the wants of a full grown intelligent community.

I can conceive no adequate reason why every British resident in the Colony of full age who can read and write English should not have a voice in the selection of the members of our local parliament, except the difficulty of evolving and maintaining a register in such a quickly changing population as we have here.

A step towards meeting this difficulty was made when the electorate of the Statutory Board was extended to all jurors, and to persons exempted from Jury Service on the ground that they are engaged in work necessary to the community; a definition which should include all those possessing sufficient knowledge of English to follow evidence in a law court.

The Chamber of Commerce electorate is very limited, as there is only one vote for each firm or company belonging to that body, so that in effect only the senior partners of mercantile houses have the vote.

The unofficial justices are also very limited in number, and are remarkable for the exclusion of many not unworthy citizens, and also for the fact that justices are not elected but nominated by the Government, so that they represent nobody.

Any increase in the representative character of the Councils should be based upon the widest electorate possible, and, on the understanding that Mr. Pollock will put forward that theory in forwarding it, his petition should be signed by every English speaking British Subject in the Colony.

At the same time why should not our Chinese friends petition for the substitution of election for nomination of the Chinese Members of Council?

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce is admirably suited for the election of one or more of such members.

As it must take many months to establish the principles contended for, and to elaborate the details, it would be unwise to delay all movement in the desired direction until after the war, when we hope that a more representative Government will be established to grapple with the problems which peace will bring in its train.

Yours etc.
F. B. L. BOWLEY.

There is quite a wealth of good reading in "College Chimes"—the St. Stephen's College magazine, and not the least interesting section of it is a symposium on the professions. This is the second series dealing with this question, the professions now discussed being Engineering, Law, Journalism and Commerce. In addition there are sports notes, school notes, poems and a variety of short papers, all exceedingly well done and some apparently contributed by Chinese pupils.

Lieut. Storrie, who, before leaving for England with a volunteer force in order to enlist, was well-known in Hongkong where he resided for several years, has written a letter to Mr. Wilson, of Messrs. Robertson, Wilson and Co., Beaconfield Arcade, in which he says:—"I have been promoted to the rank of full Lieutenant now, and shall shortly be leaving for the Cameroons. . . . I shall be glad to go and get a bit of scrapping after having been training recruits for so long. What do you think of Lord Derby's scheme? Things don't look so very rosy just now. When we have finished with Africa I suppose I shall be sent off to France, but I shall be glad when it is all over; the war seems interminable. I am getting on well in the Army and am sticking to my books, and, before the war is over, I hope to be made a Captain—unless the Hun pop me off! Some people will have been thinking I have been shirking perhaps, but you can't go and fight until you are sent."

R. E. THEATRE.

Gent's Whist Drive and Smoker.

A very successful gent's whist drive and smoking concert was held in the R. E. Theatre, Wellington Barracks, last night under the auspices of the R. E. Entertainment Club.

The prize winners at whist were:—1st, Mr. Skelcher; 2nd, Mr. Burton; 3rd, Mr. Davis R.G.A.; 4th, Mr. Roger R.E.; 5th, Mr. Pollock R.N.; Hidden number, Mr. Hearn.

At the conclusion of the drive, a well-arranged programme was proceeded with, Q. M. S. Evans being in the chair. The following artists gave turns—"Gus", Lee, Cpl. Huxley, R.E.; Gnr. Murray, R.G.A.; Q. M. S. Evans, R.E.; Bmdr. Potan, R.G.A.; Cpl. Davis, R.G.A.; Gnr. Light, R.G.A.; Gnr. Andrews, R.G.A.; Loc. Cpl. Huxley, R.E.; Gnr. Hansen, R.G.A.

Special mention must be made of "Mac" and Murphy in their "Chinese Magicians" item. They were extremely good and may be seen in the near future at one of the local halls. The Stonecutters Troupe were also good, the audience being kept in a continuous roar of laughter by their performance. The accompanists were Lee, Cpl. Perrin, A.O.C., Sergt. Harper, R.G.A., and S. O. Jenkins, R.E. (Piccolo), M.C. Cpl. Coxon, R.E.

The arrangements were entirely in the hands of the Hon. Sec. Corpl. Grimes, R.E.

THE CANTON BANK CASE.

Judgment from the Defendant.

The hearing was continued at the Supreme Court this morning, before the Chief Justice, of the case in which the widow of a Chinese named Lan Yui, alias Lau Chok ting, sought to recover the sum of $10,400 from the Canton Bank, $10,000 of which was principal and the remainder interest on an account. It is alleged by plaintiff that deposit notes of $3,000 and $2,000 respectively were deposited in the Canton Bank by her husband on August 26 and 27, 1913, and were payable on demand.

Mr. Potter, continuing his address, said the Bank of Canton had paid the money by order of the Court. The defendant was not obliged to wait for a suit when he knew there could be no defence for it. If the Bank had not paid the money by the order of the Court, then they knew quite as well as he did that they would have had a bailiff in the Bank. It would be impossible for his Lordship to say that the Bank of Canton could do otherwise than pay the money under the compulsion of law. It was impossible to think that his Lordship would make another order for them to pay over this money a second time. If a man paid money voluntarily and then found that he had paid it to the wrong person, that was a different question altogether.

Mr. Potter then proceeded to cite several cases dealing with garnishee orders. The Judgment. His Lordship, in giving judgment for the defendant's withdrawal, said there was no doubt that in this case there were two innocent parties and that one or the other must suffer for the mistakes or negligence of a third party. The duty of the Court, in cases such as this, was to apply the law and apply it rigorously. In this case there was no evidence that any notice of fraud was received by the Bank, neither was there any evidence to show that they were aware of the proceedings which had taken place in this Court, or that such proceedings were not of a bona fide character. The cases cited by Mr. Potter, in his opinion, showed the position of the Bank beyond doubt. He was clearly of opinion that the money was paid under compulsion of law and the Court had no power to order the payment of the sum again.

MAILBOAT ARRIVALS.

Friends of passengers and the public will be interested to learn of the following mailboat arrivals:—

The P. & O. outward mail steamer Mongolia, with the London mail of January 13, arrived at Marseilles on Tuesday morning, the 18th inst.

The P. & O. homeward mail steamer Mooltan, with the Hongkong mail of December 16 last, arrived at Marseilles on Tuesday morning, the 18th inst.

French Consul's Promotion. We learn that the Consul General for France (M. Gaston Liebert), who has held the position in this Colony for about twelve years, has now been appointed to a similar position at New York, and will leave Hongkong on February 15 by the Tor-o-Mara. The departure of M. Liebert will be greatly regretted, but his many friends will heartily congratulate the Consul General on his new appointment, which, we understand, is a promotion.

THE MURDER OF CHANG SZE-SHEN.

Prisoner Handed over to Chinese Authorities.

At the further hearing of the case of the man charged at Shanghai with the murder of Chang Sze-shen, manager of the local Bank of Communications, it was stated that shortly after arrest the prisoner said that he had been sent down by a commandant named Tsang Chi-zung, who had given him instructions to kill the deceased because he was a traitor to the Moucheist party. The commandant sent him to Shanghai with another man, named Wong Yu-zung, having given both of them a revolver, thirty cartridges and $50 apiece. They knew that the deceased had to pass through Rue Richerard VII and when he passed they both fired ten shots at the deceased. Prisoner stated he was arrested shortly afterwards.

In court, says the N. O. Daily News, he made a further statement, saying he did not know if Tsang Chi-zung was a commandant or not. He came to Shanghai to meet prisoner and Tsang told him that deceased was a very bad man and dishonest. Tsang stated that the Chinese Government had ordered the deceased to use $60,000 for the handing over by the International Mixed Court of the two Wongs, who had assassinated Admiral Tseng, and that the deceased had retained $30,000 of that sum himself.

The French Assessor pointed out that if the deceased were dishonest the prisoner could have petitioned the court and not taken the law into his own hands. If such a principle as that of the prisoner's were adopted, China would be chaos in a few months.

Prisoner denied that he was a member of the Kuomintang. It was pointed out to the prisoner that his two statements did not agree, and consequently they were false and that there must be some other reason for his act, but he denied this. An order was made for the prisoner to be handed over to the Chinese authorities.

ARMED ROBBERY TRIAL.

Defendant Discharged and Re-arrested.

The two Chinese who are charged with committing an armed robbery, at Shaikwan, were again brought before Mr. Hayland at the Police Court this afternoon.

Mr. E. Davidson appeared for the second defendant. It was stated by a Chinese constable that when he arrested the first defendant he was seriously assaulted, being thrown over some stones, cutting his hands and face.

Mr. Davidson said there was no evidence against his client, because he was charged with robbing with violence, but, as a matter of fact, he had only confessed to taking the men to the house. That in itself might be a crime, but it was not the crime with which he had been charged.

The second defendant was discharged. Immediately the man had left the Court, Mr. Davidson returned and said that the man had been re-arrested within the precincts of the Court.

Inspector Angus.—He was outside the Court. We can let him go again and arrest him in the street. We don't mean him to escape.

His Worship.—What can I do? Mr. Davidson.—I don't know. But it seemed such an odd procedure that I thought I would mention it. The man must be clear of the precincts of the Court before he is arrested.

Inspector Angus.—He was in the compound. The matter then dropped. The other defendant was committed to the Sessions.

MISSING SOVEREIGNS.

An Indian Soldier's Loss.

The case of the Indian soldier, Unip Singh, of the Hongkong-Singapore Battalion, R.G.A., who is charged with stealing seventy sovereigns and other money from a comrade whilst in hospital, was proceeded with before Mr. J. R. Wood at the Police Court to-day.

When charged, prisoner made a statement to the effect that some time ago his brother came to Hongkong and asked him to take charge of the money as he wanted to go to India.

Evidence was given by the Secretary of the Indian Temple, who said that no such person as defendant had mentioned had been to the Colony.

Mr. T. H. King (A.S.P.) proved that no pass had been issued to a man of the description to leave the Colony. All Indians leaving had to have a pass.

His Worship.—Even if they are deported?

Mr. King.—Yes; even if they are deported.

The case was adjourned.

CONTRACTORS IN COURT.

Claim on Promissory Notes.

In the Summary Court this morning, before Mr. Justice Gompertz the Sai Hing Firm claimed from the firm of Li Sing-chi, 50 Shaikwan West, the sum of $850, being the amount due to the plaintiffs from the defendant in respect of a promissory note, and one borrowing note.

Mr. Denny appeared for the plaintiff, and defendant was represented by Mr. Gardiner, who said that he might as well make an objection at the outset, to the effect that his instructions were that the Sai Hing firm, the plaintiffs, had ceased to carry on business at the beginning of the present Chinese year. If his instructions were so far correct, then he contended that the writ was bad on the face of it. Before the writ was issued, he was told the firm had ceased to carry on business.

Mr. Denny.—I am afraid I don't understand my friend's objection.

His Lordship.—It is a perfectly simple case.

In his opening statement, Mr. Denny said that at first sight this case appeared quite simple. It was a case which touched upon a good many cases and also touched upon a case which had been before his Lordship. The plaintiff, at the time the promissory notes were given, were sub-contractors for rubble, to Sai Hing for the Ty-sam reservoir and the Sai Hing sub-contracted to the firm of Messrs. Mun Li. When the case was heard last year, judgment was given for the defendant. In that action Mr. Li Sing-chi admitted he was a partner in the Mun Li firm. Before this contract was finished, and during the course of the contract, it was the custom for the Mun Li firm to draw money before they had supplied the stone, and when they found they were overdrawn, a promissory note was given. At the end of 1914 the accounts were made up, and it was agreed that the Mun Li firm owed to Sai Hing $4,000, and there were seven promissory notes. It was agreed that a new note should be made out to cover the others, and this was done. The result of the action was that Messrs. Li Hing, knowing that claims were being made against Mr. Li Sing-chi, and Mr. Li Sing-chi swearing that the money was not his, a writ was taken out by Sai Hing against Li Sing-chi.

The hearing was adjourned.
